More about
School

Why Attend a College or Technical School?

- Decrease likelihood of unemployment
- Increase lifetime earnings
- Greater access to healthcare
- Achieve independence
- Identity exploration

The goal of ETV is to increase the number of foster youth who attend college and graduate with a degree or certificate

Foster Care Youth

84% of foster care youth who graduate high school say they want to attend college -only 20% actually attend college

Foster Care Youth

About 4% of foster care youth graduate with a degree or certificate

Georgia Youth

51% of high school graduates in the state of Georgia attend a post- secondary institution

Georgia Youth

About 44% of young adults in Georgia graduate with a degree or certificate

Types of Schools

Universities

Offer Bachelor's, Master's, and Doctoral degrees, and sometimes have professional schools such as a law school or medical school. Tend to be larger than colleges

Colleges

Offer four-year Bachelor's degree in the arts (such as English, history, drama) or sciences (such as biology, computer science, and engineering) along with other programs

Community/Junior College

Community colleges and junior colleges award Associate's degrees. Usually less expensive than a college or university. Many people transfer to a larger college after receiving their Associate's degree

Trade/Career/Technical Schools

Technical schools teach the science behind the occupation, while Vocational/Trade schools focus on hands-on application of skills needed to do a specific job. Usually programs last two years. Students receive either an Associate's degree or a certificate

Public, Private and For Profit Schools

Public vs. Private Institutions

Public schools are operated or funded with state and local government funding

Private schools are not affiliated with a government organization. Since private schools receive less (or no) money from state and local governments, tuition rates are typically higher

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=EUn3yJsc4Cs>

Non-Profit vs. For Profit (Proprietary) Institutions

Non-Profit schools are owned and run by a private organization or corporation and have the purpose of producing goods and services that are not a source of income for the organization

For-Profit (also called Proprietary) schools refers to educational institutions operated by a private profit seeking business

Students should be aware—while For-Profit schools can provide another higher education option, they can also require much more financial planning, depending on the program. For more details, check out the following Vox report here:

Timeline of Events

GAfutures provides clear and detailed guides for students beginning in middle school and progressing through a student's summer after senior year

The screenshot shows the GAfutures website interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the GAfutures logo and the tagline 'Explore. Plan. Succeed.' followed by icons for Home, HOPE & State Aid Programs, Federal Aid & Scholarships, College Planning (highlighted), Career Exploration, Resources, About Us, and My GAfutures. Below this is a secondary navigation bar with links for College Decision Guide, College Money Matters, College Search, College Applications, Apply to College Initiative, High School Transcripts, and Path2College 529 Plan. The main content area features a blue header for '12th Grade - Fall Semester' and a breadcrumb trail: GAfutures.org / College Planning / College Decision Guide / College Planning Timeline / 12th Grade - Fall Semester. A 'COLLEGE DECISION GUIDE' section contains a horizontal menu with 'College Planning Timeline' selected. A sidebar on the left lists 'College Prep Checklists' for Middle School, 9th and 10th Grade, 11th Grade, and 12th Grade - Fall Semester. The main text area is titled '12th Grade - Fall Semester' and includes a paragraph about senioritis and a 'Net Price Calculator' link. A 'Print' button is visible in the top right of the content area.

Timeline of Events

Here are a few highlights from those checklists:

GAfutures
Explore. Plan. Succeed.

9th Grade Highlights

- Create a GAfutures account at GAfutures.org. GAfutures is a great resource to help explore and plan for college and career
- Students, introduce yourself to the school counselor. Make an appointment to discuss classes and ask questions about education options after high school
- HOPE GPA begins calculating as soon as a student set foot into high school. Be sure to develop good study habits. Create a schedule and stick to it

10th Grade Highlights

- Discuss classes and review graduation, college entrance and academic rigor requirements with a guidance counselor
- Check HOPE GPA to stay on track to be eligible for the HOPE or Zell Miller Scholarship
- Take the PSAT/NMSQT to help prepare for the real thing
- Think about how to spend the summer: work, volunteer or take a college-level course. Update a high school portfolio with all achievements and activities

11th Grade Highlights

- Register for and take exams like the SAT, SAT Subject Test, and the ACT for college admission. Check for free test prep classes in the area
- Start drafting essays to use for scholarships and college admissions applications. Search for scholarships to help pay for college on GAfutures, as well as through a guidance counselor, community, family and friends
- Schedule campus visits or contact colleges to request information about financial aid, admission requirements, applications and deadlines

12th Grade Highlights

- Make sure you're on track to graduate and fulfill all graduation, admissions and academic rigor requirements
- Pay attention to deadlines and apply to the colleges. Ask teachers and counselors to submit required documents (letters of recommendation) to preferred colleges
- Submit a request through a My GAfutures account for your high school to send an official transcript to any college you've applied to
- Beginning October 1, plan to complete the FAFSA. Attend a FAFSA Completion event to get help filling it out (don't forget to create a FSA ID)
- Stay involved in after-school activities and work hard all year. Grades can still impact scholarship and other financial aid eligibility
- Complete any additional scholarship applications
- Decision time! Review college acceptances, compare financial aid offers and plan visits where you have been accepted
- If you have questions about the aid being offered, contact that college's financial aid office. When you decide which college to attend, notify the school and submit any required financial deposits. Also, notify the other colleges you were accepted to and withdraw your application
